

Empower yourself as a healer...

Come to a workshop in

BRIDGING DIMENSIONS FOR HEALING

In this class Dr. Nancy Stern will teach how to channel specific healing frequencies from a higher dimension for specific healing purposes. These frequencies can be channeled into water, various objects, and people, and can be transmitted long distance or hands-on.

Once the basic technology is learned for channeling these frequencies, there is literally no limit to the healing possibilities for its use.

This workshop will cover how to heal the physical body such as enhancing weight loss, strengthening the immune system, improving eyesight, etc.; how to heal mental and emotional issues such as enhancing love, forgiveness, prosperity, and memory; and how to clear and balance a physical space such as one's home or office.

Class participants will make vials of energized water to take home, which can then be used for energizing other water, for long distance treatment of people, animals, places, or plants, and for drinking directly. They will also make "miracle boxes", which are long distance healing devices that can be used with the vials to send healing frequencies to people, animals, plants, and places.
